Sugar is a collection inspired by the days of summer spent in my community garden with friends while watching the excitement of summer from the ice cream shop next door. Childhood memories of ice cream cones, bike rides, and fruit transformed my imagination into a creative space of Sugar. Take your imagination back in time and treat yourself to three delicious colorways of six summery prints ready for any summery-creation!

Floral Retrospective | Anna Maria Horner

Pre Order • June 30 2017 | Ship • July 21 2017

It is a joy to revitalize some of my all-time favorite floral prints in their best-selling original form, and some with all new colorations sure to inspire a fresh look for timeless art! Floral Retrospective is a concise 16-piece collection, which sits beautifully alongside so many other styles of fabrics from vintage to modern, including my Luminous fabrics as shown here. Once upon a time, these prints lived in separate collections; however mixing as one collection is what I love most about designing fabric and quilting. Printed on our beautiful, quality, silky FreeSpirit quilting cotton makes them ready for endless projects. Happy Sewing, Quilting, and Creating!

Soul Mate

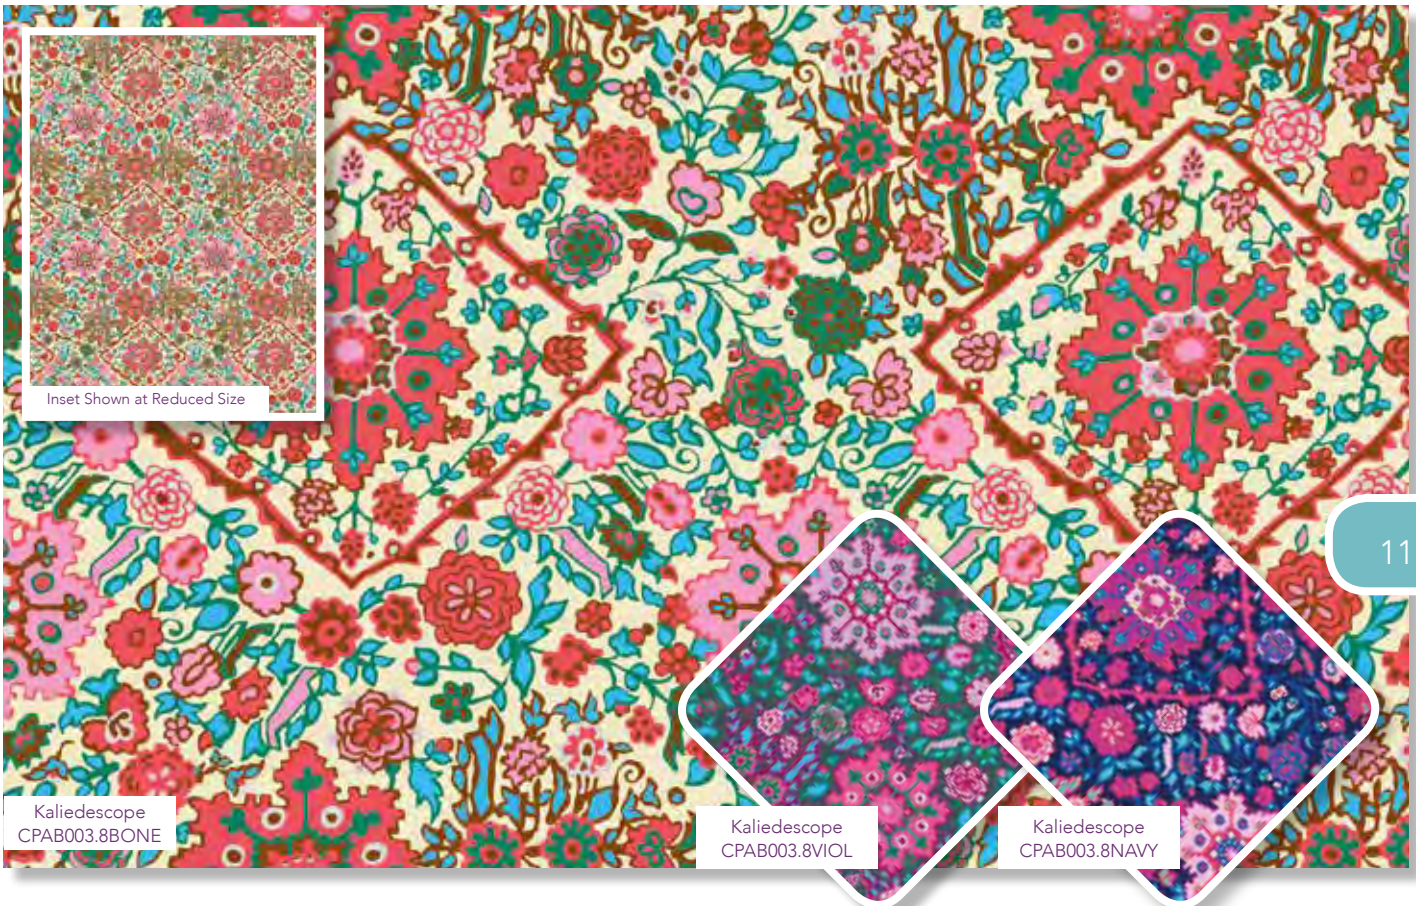

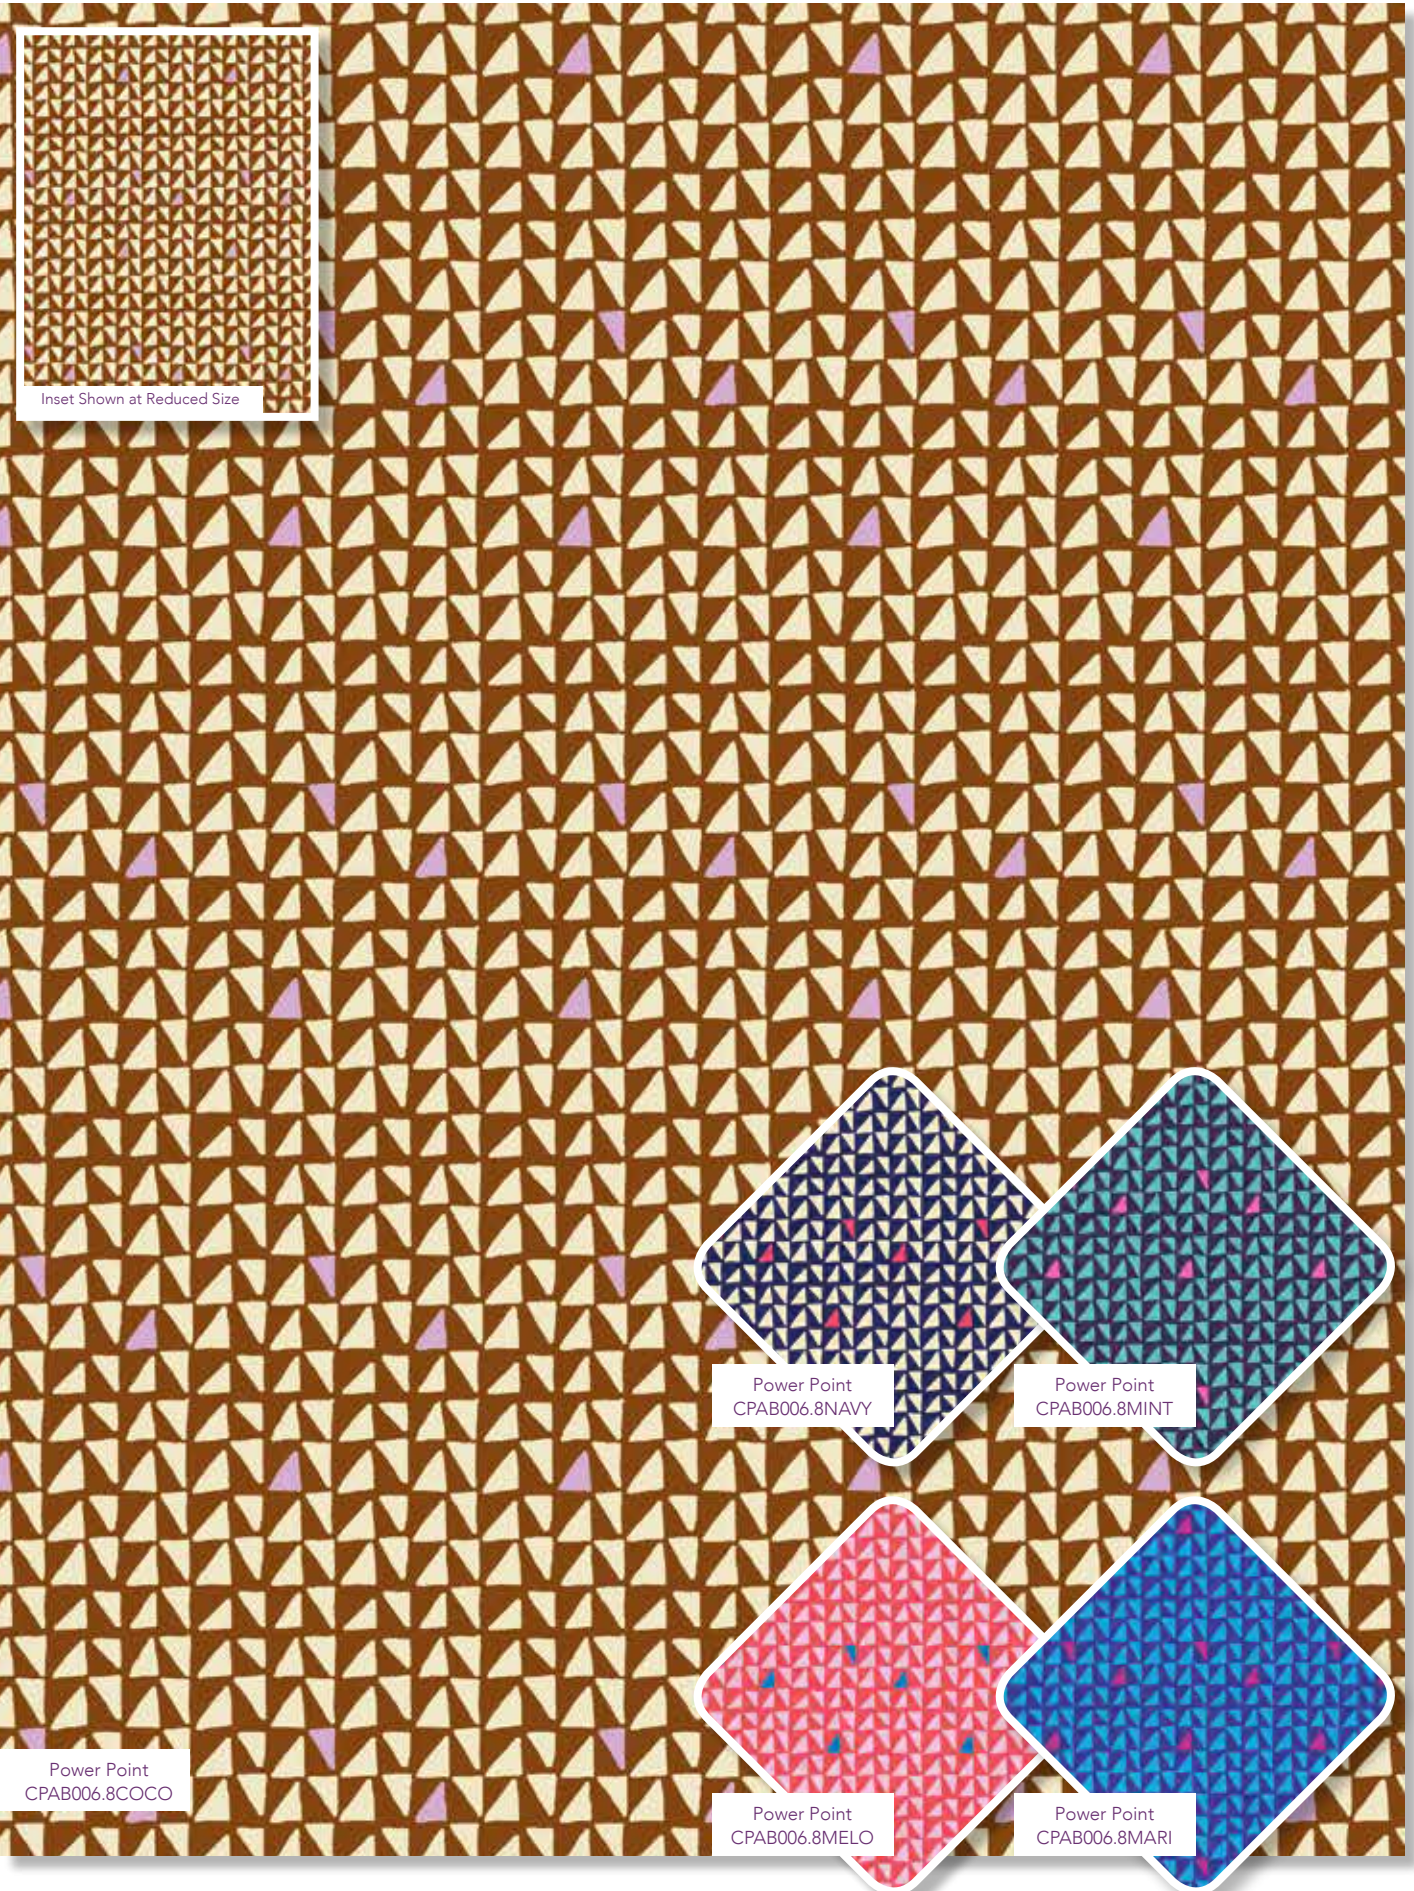

SOUL MATE by ©amy butler

Soul Mate | Amy Butler
Pre Order • June 30 2017 | Ship • July 21 2017

Soul Mate is a sweet reflection on love and the perfect co-creation that happens when synergy and beauty meet. The two peacock lovers in It Takes Two are the stars of the collection, and in a light, tongue-in-cheek way represent finding my soul mate in my husband, David. Being in tandem and mixing elements go hand-in-hand with making a great relationship, and of course, an amazing quilt! The combination of quilt-friendly scales, modern design and fresh color offers a multitude of stitching opportunities! I have 3 versatile color ways; two being a little dustier and a third that is crisp and bright. Soul Mate is printed on a gorgeous cotton poplin with a hand and finish to result. Of course to keep any good relationship on higher ground creative play is encouraged! Enjoy! and Happy Stitching! XO Amy

The Spring Fever collection will boost your spirits with garden fresh colors and energetic patterns. There are playful flowers mixed with cheeky geometrics to celebrate this season of blooming optimism. Three complementary, but unique colorways present some delicious additions for both your functional and fun fabric stashes. Mix and match some tickled tulips with crisp cool stripes, or perhaps a dancing May bouquet with some impudent checks. Sew the seeds of creativity with these vigorous and versatile quilting cottons, and make merry with Spring Fever!

Washington Depot

Washington Depot

Washington Depot | Denyse Schmidt

Pre Order • July 28 2017 | Ship • Aug 18 2017

My new fabric collection, Washington Depot, is inspired by an elegant, historic New England village that feels as though time has stopped. Friendly and warm, neat as a pin and picture-perfect, every street and garden view evokes a nostalgic sweetness of unspoiled beauty and simple pleasures, along with a sense of uninterrupted time in which to enjoy them. A world away from the constant demands of our virtually-connected world, Washington Depot invites us to slow down and be present for the task at hand, whether it's sharing coffee and gossip with a friend, a leisurely walk and errand run through town, or simply enjoying a book and quiet time at the library. Versatile, small and medium-scale geometrics, and florals with a decidedly current color sensibility are just right for any project you have in mind—in particular a modern scrap quilt, a back-to-school wardrobe, or that perfect vintage-style dress.

A total of 23 SKU's in three colorways (Wild Rose, Linoleum, and Teal) ship in August 2017 – just in time for fall sewing projects! And, isn't it time you started that quilt you've been dreaming about?

English Garden

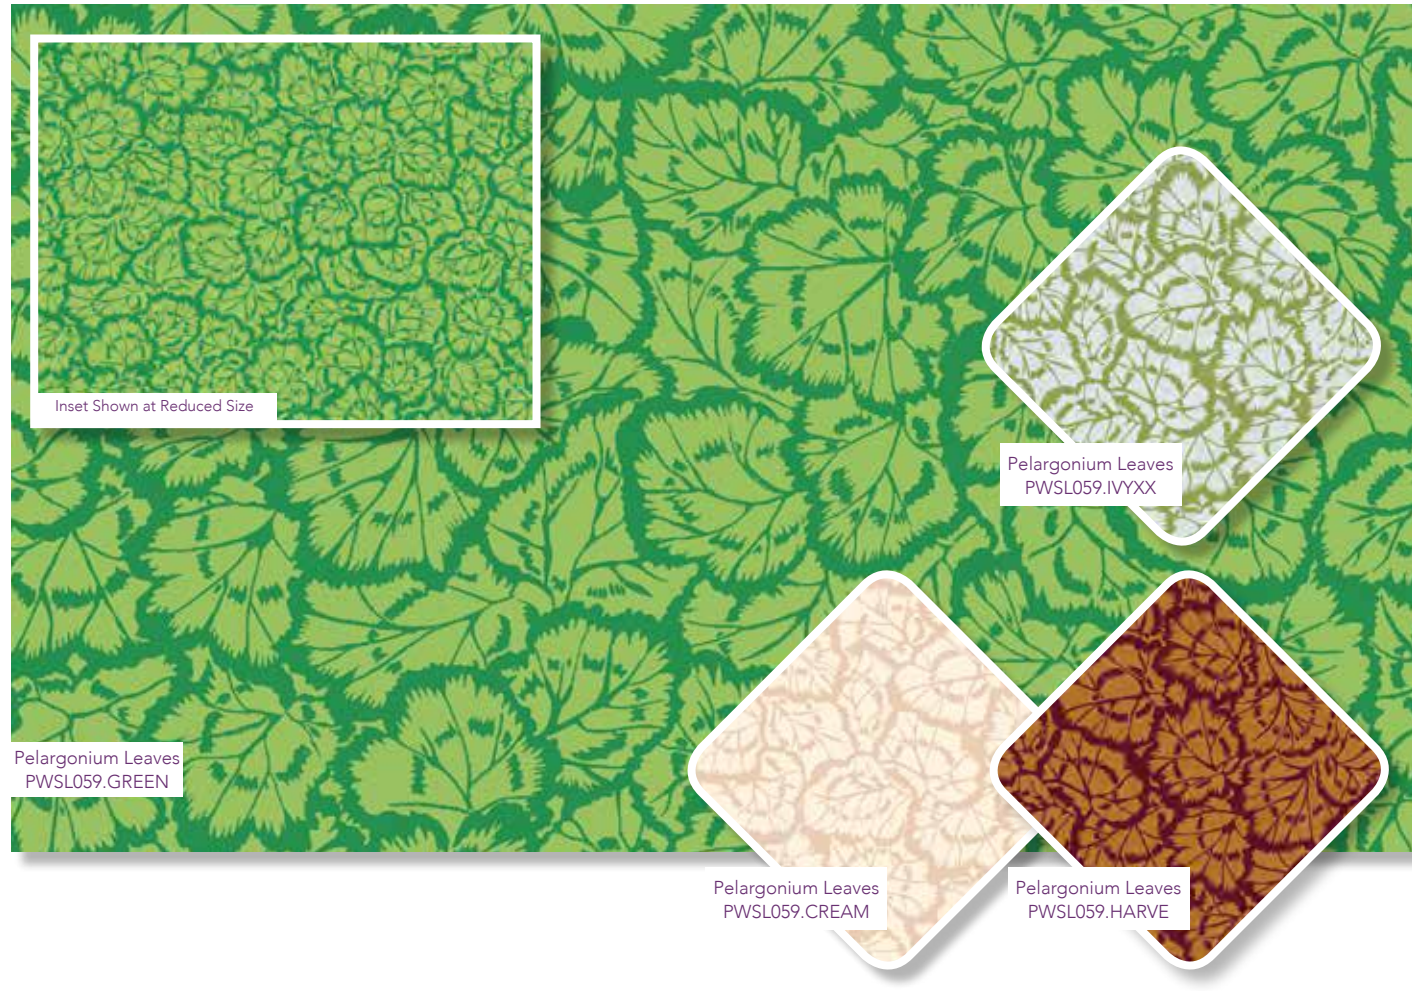

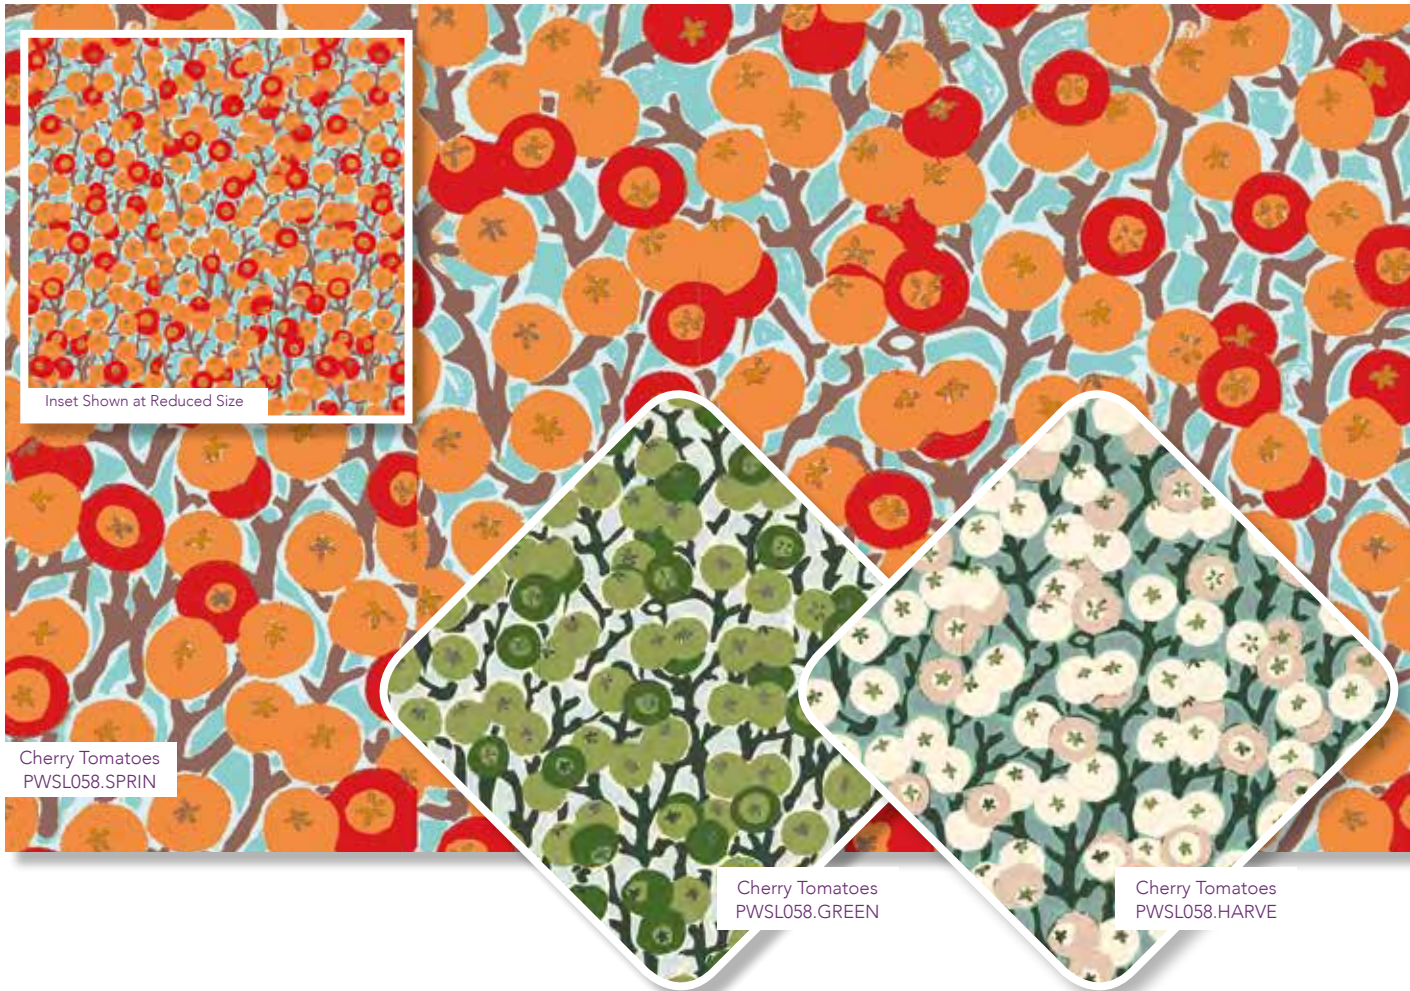

English Garden

by © Snow Leopard Designs

English Garden | Snow Leopard
Pre Order • Sept 1 2017 | Ship • Sept 22 2017

The English Garden Collection for Snow Leopard Designs is inspired by my lifelong passion for English gardens. From the dense herbaceous borders overflowing with peonies and various hefty leaved flowering plants, to the ordered rows of vegetable and fruit gardens with their tomato and strawberry plants amid kale and cabbages. Then there are the roses climbing over trellis work in hidden leafy bowers and secret greenhouses full of scent and colour of variegated geraniums.

In this new collection from Snow Leopard Designs I've tried to capture the wonder and magic of an English garden so the same scent and kaleidoscope of form and colour can permeate your own homes and projects.

Spirit Animal

Spirit Animal | Tula Pink
Pre Order • Sept 1 2017 | Ship • Sept 22 2017

Once upon a time there was an undiscovered island that spent thousands of years evolving beyond the burdensome limitations of reality. Imagination was both currency and religion in this place. You could be anything that you wished as long as you had the daring to imagine it so. The animals didn't know that they were supposed to be brown so they dressed themselves in shades of purple, orange, pink and green. Every being was the ruler of their own reality and existed solely within the make believe of their own minds, because they could dream it, it would become real here. One day a princess of her own reality, dressed in her typical attire of feathers and beads, having spent the morning in the usual way, cuddling with grizzly bears and lounging on rocks with otters came to lie in a field of wildflowers. Yearning for conversation but too comfortable to seek it out she began to speak aloud to no one in particular. As she paused to collect her thoughts, the field that she lay in spoke back. The wild flowers that cocooned her had imagined themselves as her friends and the magic of the island had made it so. The wild flowers told her of a place where she could mine for stone to make the jewelry and elaborate trinkets that she so loved to dress herself in. This stone contained the essence of the island and was where new inhabitants were developed and honed over years, crafted from the very thing that made everything here so special.

There have been rumors and questionable sightings of this place going all the way back through the centuries. Once, an explorer even claimed to have captured some of this magical stone from the island itself but as he sailed away from the island the stone began to lose it's color, the sparkle that was once so blinding began to fade and by the time he landed on the shores of his own home it had turned into nothing more than a plain gray rock. No one believed this traveler as he had no proof to speak of and his wild stories of vibrant color and self aware foliage was chalked up to too many months on the open sea. His tales became the stuff of fiction, going the way of mermaids and dragons but he knew in his heart what he had seen and that he would never, ever forget it.

Shannon Newlin is a painter and illustrator. As an artist, Shannon believes in the organic process of creative discovery, a place where one line naturally leads to another opening the door to a fresh perspective and style. Her inspiration is strongly influenced by the forms and colours of flowers and nature. A simple leaf found while walking near her studio can inspire a whole new series of art and propel the creative path. Through nature's beauty she enjoys creating fresh, expressive images that show movement, joy and unique sense of vision.

Her first fabric collection for FreeSpirit is strongly influenced by her popular and well known illustrations and her artwork for wall art, fabric and handcrafted home décor

Artisan Batik

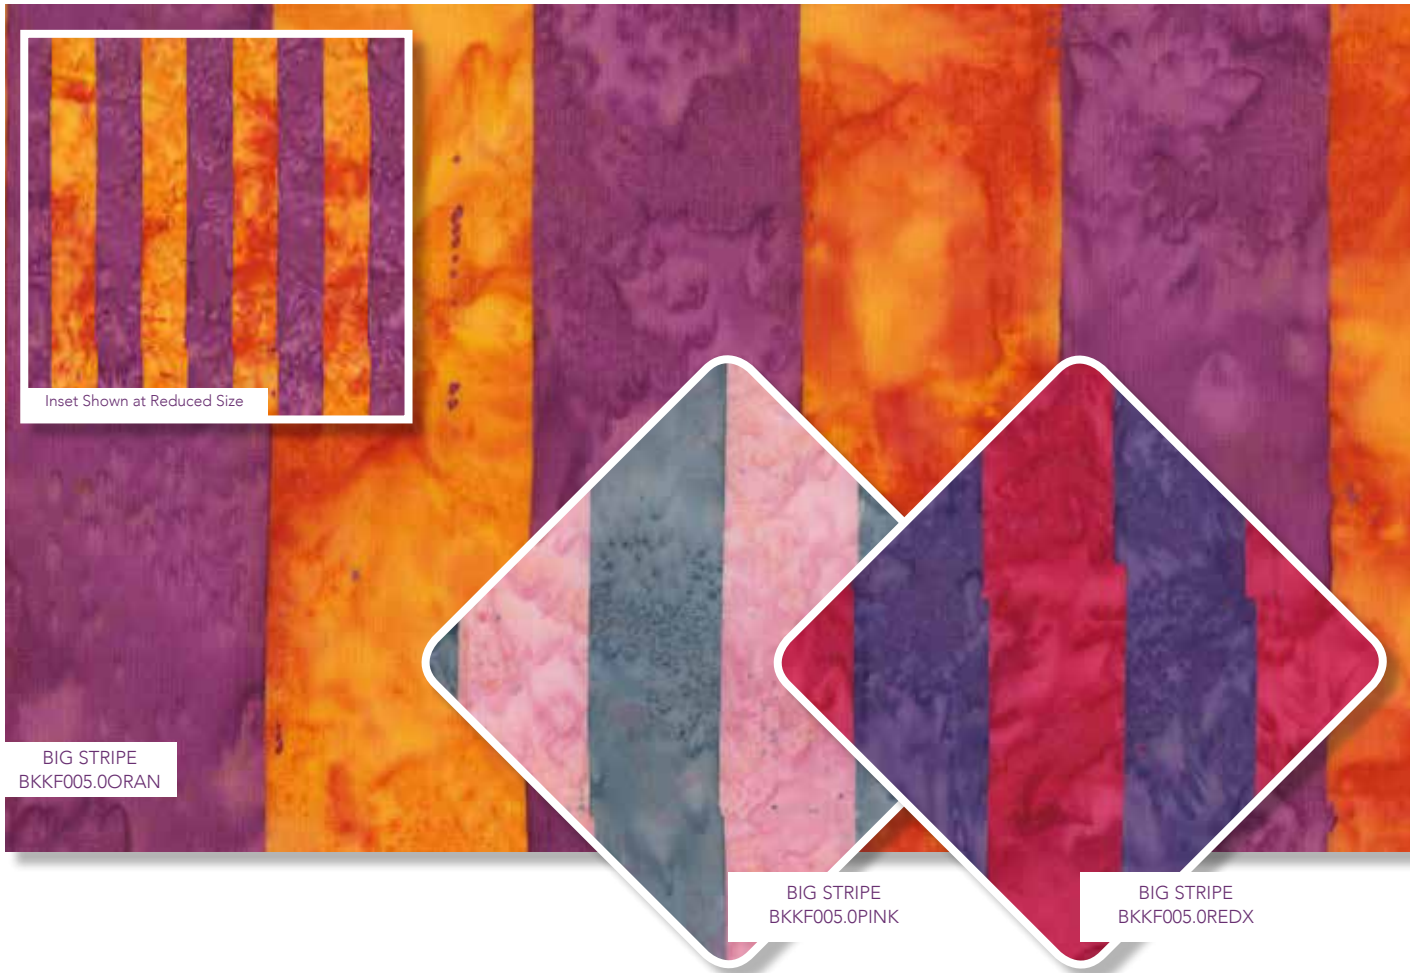

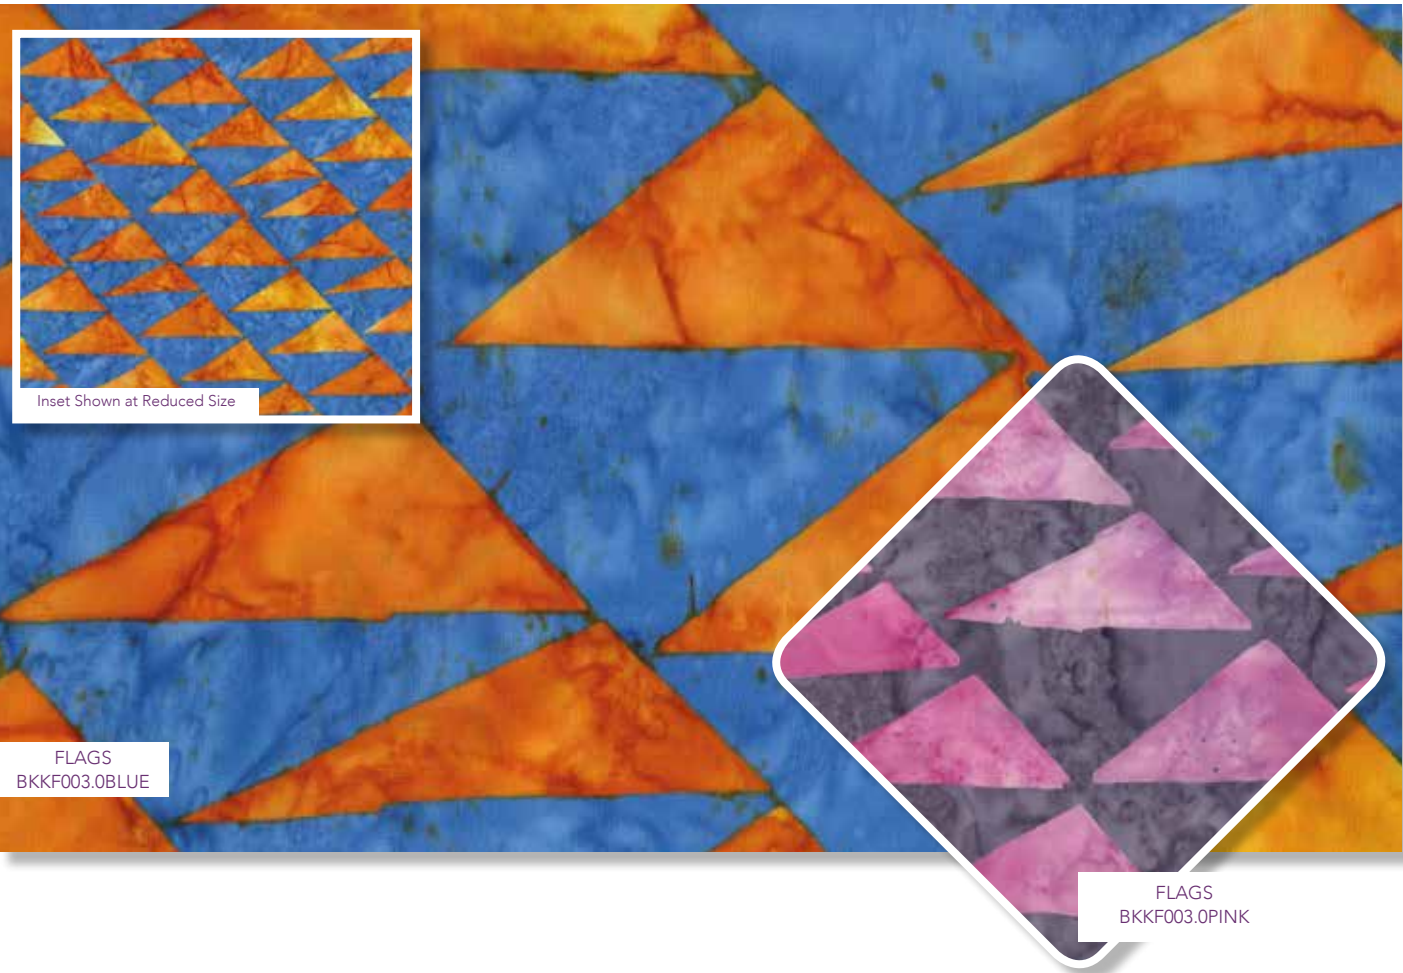

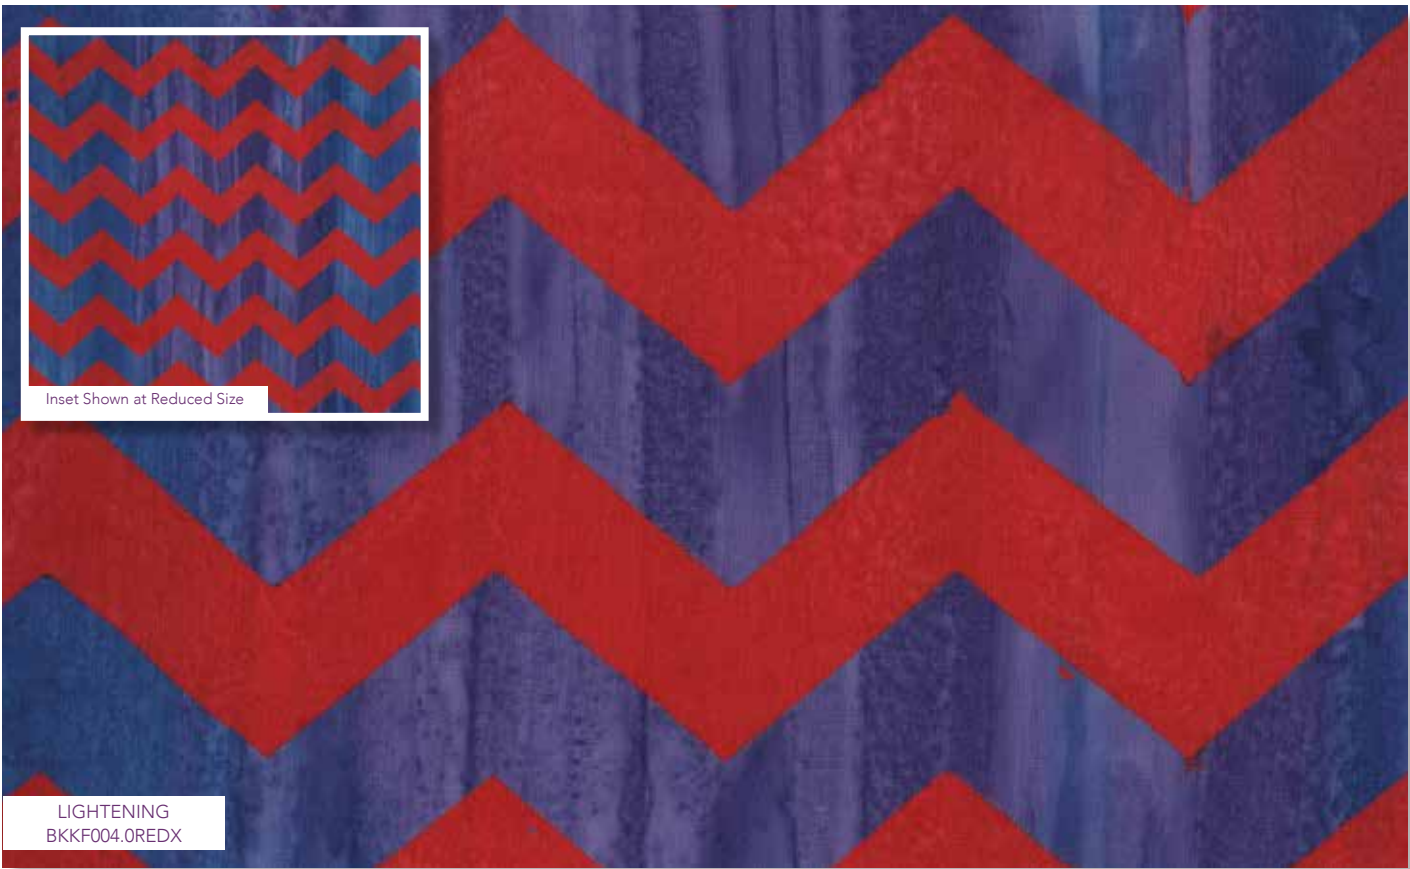

Arisan Batik | Kaffe Fassett
Stock Collection | Ship • Aug 1 2017

This new collection includes two distinct colour groups. Soft Pastel Pinks with Dove Greys and Hot Spicy Reds with Cobalt Blue's.

The pastels include a favourite combo of chalky blue and white that has figured already in several of my quilt designs. The warm greys in this group should appeal to many modern quilters as well as old school traditionalists who can combine them with reproduction prints.

The hot red group includes purple and lime green with the scarlets and medium tone blues. Ive designed a quilt that uses only Chess (checkerboard) in its many colour ways that has the feel of a marble floor.

The embroidered flower print, inspired by folk dancing skirts is thrilling in Brilliant Reds against a navy ground. The big ikat stripes will make great garments or borders and backings for quilts.
